

Tree of Lights kickoff

The Salvation Army will open its annual Christmas drive for funds in a ceremony at 7 p.m. Friday at the Tree of Lights which will be located this year in Nameoki Village Shopping Center.

A goal of $25,000 has been set this year. Each light on the tree will represent a $25 donation and when the goal is met the entire tree will be lit.

The Christmas fund is used to help needy children, families and senior citizens in the Quad-City area at Christmas time. All contributions remain in the community to help where they are needed most, according to Capt. Michael Tompkins, commander of the Salvation Army in Granite City.

Mrs. Fanny Epstein, a long-time member of the organization will turn on the first light on the tree to initiate the 1976 Tree of Lights appeal.

Friday night. In previous years the tree has been located either in Memorial Park at Niedringhaus and Madison Avenues or at Civic Park, Niedringhaus and Delmar Avenues.

The tree is located this year in the Nameoki Village Shopping Center area about 20 feet north of the Nameoki Village sign and directly opposite the intersection of Lindell Boulevard with Nameoki Road.

Friday night's program will include invocation by the Rev. David Maxton of the First United Presbyterian Church. The address will be delivered by Randall Robertson, Granite City attorney, and Richard Kerch, chairman of this year's fund drive, will serve as master of ceremonies. The mayors of Quad-City communities will attend.

Increase in development fund for '77

The Quad-Cities will receive allocations totaling $663 in Community Development grant funds during the fiscal year beginning July 1, up $220,589 from the $442,264 allocated in this fiscal year, Mary Kane, Community Development administrator for Madison County, announced yesterday.

Under the new Community Development formula, Madison County is expected to receive about $3 million in CD funds next year, as compared to $2,195,000 in this fiscal year, she predicted.

A $1 million allocation to the county would allow about $2,295,046 to the five districts of the county for programs in cities, villages and townships.

The money will be distributed on a population basis to the districts at an estimated level of $9.15 per person in each district. The districts received grants equivalent to $6.11 per person last year.

The upcoming year is the third of the three-year program which started with a $1 million allocation the first year, $2,195,000 the second year and the $3 million next year.

The money is available for a variety of community and district programs, but at least a portion of the funds must be earmarked next year for housing rehabilitation programs and projects to aid the handicapped and those of low and moderate incomes.

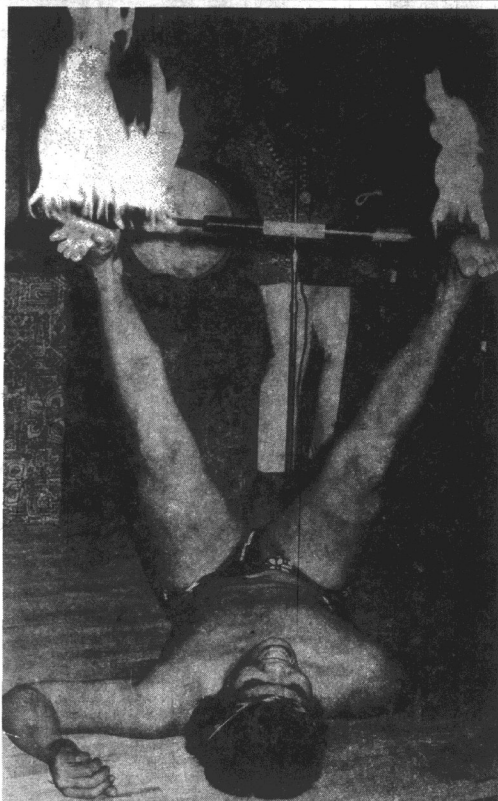

Community Development committees of citizens in each city, village and township, will prepare lists of priority projects and these projects will be reviewed at a district level before a final district application is submitted to the Community Development office for approval.

A public hearing to give citizens an opportunity to express suggestions for spending the funds is to be held Tuesday, Nov. 30, in the Madison County Courthouse at Edwardsville.

The individual citizens' committees then will meet to prepare their priority lists and District Chairman Paul Schuler, mayor of Granite City, to call for a district-wide meeting between Dec. 13 and 22.

Santa here Friday

The Christmas season will officially open in the Quad-City area Friday morning with the arrival of Santa Claus.

Santa will arrive in Venice about 9 a.m. Friday and will ride a Bicentennial truck in a parade through Venice, Madison and Granite City.

Accompanying him in the parade will be "Sergeant Otto," a Volkswagen decorated as a policeman; "Jaws," a custom motorized tri-cycle designed to resemble a shark; Granite City police "Officer Friendly," Glenn Wright; two antique cars, a police escort and other entrees.

The parade will be from the Venice city hall on Broadway to Madison Avenue, stopping at 9:05 a.m. at the Venice Post Office; 9:35 a.m. at Third Street and Madison Avenue; then on Madison Avenue to Granite City.

Stops will include Belleme Village Shopping Center at 10 a.m. Friday; Schermer's Men's and Boy's Shop in Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center at 10:30 a.m.; Truller's Store in Nameoki Village Shopping Center at 10:45 a.m.; and then to Santa's Cabin at 19th Street and Delmar Avenue in downtown Granite City.

Santa then will be in residence at his cabin to greet children from Friday through Christmas.

Santa will be in his cabin Friday from noon to 8 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Beginning next week, the cabin will be open Mondays at 9:35 a.m. on Fridays from noon to 3 p.m. and 4 p.m. to 8 p.m., and on Saturdays from 10 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Special Sunday openings from 12:30 p.m. to 3 p.m. will be on Dec. 5, 12 and 19 only.

In 1673, Louis Joliet, an experienced woodsman and cartographer, and Father Jacques Marquette, a Jesuit priest, led the first European exploration of the middle Mississippi River region.

Among other adventures recounted in this journal, Father Marquette included the following description of a pictograph which the expedition observed on the rocky bluffs above present-day Alton, Ill.:

"While skirting some rocks," the priest wrote, "which by their height and length inspired awe, we saw upon one of them two painted monsters which at first made us afraid, and upon which the boldest savages dare not long rest their eyes."

"They are as large as a calf; they have horns and their heads like those of a deer; a horrible look, red eyes, a beard like a tiger's, a face somewhat like a man's, a body covered with scales, and so long a tail that it winds all around the body, passing above the head and going back between the legs, ending in a fish's tail."

"Green, red and black are the three colors composing the picture."

"Moreover, these two monsters are so well painted that we cannot believe that any savage is their author; for good painters in France would find it difficult to reach that place conveniently to paint them."

"Here is approximately the shape of these monsters, as we have faithfully copied it."

The pictograph was seen subsequently by LaSalle and other French explorers in the 17th Century, after which the record is silent for a hundred years.

Then, additional sightings are reported in the early 19th Century.

The earliest known artist's sketch was made in 1825 by William Dennis. He labeled his creation the "Flying Dragon."

Ask guidelines on permits for Madison Ave.

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

The Granite City Plan Commission was instructed by the City Council Tuesday night to prepare recommendations for new guidelines governing the issuance of special use permits for property along Madison Avenue.

The decision to take a new look at the city's present zoning laws followed nearly an hour of debate in council action that reversed or otherwise changed Plan Commission recommendations in four out of five cases referred to the council for final action. All Plan Commission actions are subject to council review for approval or rejection.

Following the long discussion in which three persons in the audience were allowed to speak before the council in opposition to Plan Commission action in three separate cases, Dave Morgan, chairman of the Plan Commission, told the council: "I think the time is here when we are going to have to change the laws."

"The zoning law was amended some time ago to authorize special use permits for commercial use of property along a four-lane highway (Madison Avenue), and suddenly we have use permits all over."

"We (the Plan Commission) are required to go by the book, but actually the book is no good to us, and I don't think to you (the council) either."

Morgan said that the zoning law was updated about four years ago, and commented that "I don't think it has ever been applied. If anyone ever took us into court on some of these decisions, I don't think the Plan Commission or the city would have a leg to stand on."

The suggestion for revision of rules governing the issuance of use permits (which provide special permission to use property in residential zones for business purposes) was made by Alderman Gerald Parmley of the Sixth Ward on a motion that Morgan and Plan Commission members bring the present regulations and bring in recommendations for new guidelines on which future actions could be based.

Petitions begin

Petitions for some candidates who will seek election to city and township offices in the April 5 election in Granite City were in circulation today as a prelude to the opening of the filing period on Dec. 27.

Petition forms have been obtained from City Clerk Robert Stevens in behalf of Mayor Paul Schuler, who has announced his candidacy for re-election.

Other incumbent officials who have obtained petition forms to seek re-election include Aldermen Curtis Blevins and Steve Basarich, both of Ward Five.

Customarily only one of two aldermen in each of the city's seven wards are elected each year, but Blevins now is serving as an appointee in the Fifth Ward aldermanic spot, and therefore must run for election for a two-year term in the 1977 balloting.

Basarich's term as alderman of Ward Five expires in 1977. He will run for a full four-year term.

Petitions of candidacy also have been obtained by Von Dee Cruse, Granite City Township assessor who said he will be a candidate for re-election to that township office.

Stevens also is circulating nominating petitions as a candidate for re-election.

The filing period for the Granite City municipal and township election will continue from the Dec. 27 opening date to Jan. 31, according to Stevens. Nominating petition forms are being distributed at Stevens' office.

While the city-township elections in Granite City will be held on April 5, city elections in Venice, Madison and Ponton Beach will be held on April 19 under different sections of the election code.

Two back to be 2-way

An ordinance that will clear the way for further planning of a $1,450,000 expansion of National Food Store at Madison Avenue and Nameoki Road was given final passage by a unanimous City Council vote Tuesday night.

The action was in contrast to council consideration of the bill in the Nov. 16 meeting when a minority block of three aldermen blocked final passage of the measure at that time.

Tuesday night's vote was 12 to 0 in favor of passage with two members of the 14-man council absent. Aldermen not attending were William Dallas of the First Ward and Earl Baker of the Sixth Ward.

The ordinance establishes two-way traffic on the short block of Iowa Street behind the present National Food Store.

The block has been limited to one-way traffic during the past several years.

Reinstatement of two-way traffic at that site was requested by the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank as trustee of the property on which National Food Store is located.

Passage of the bill now clears the way for further negotiations between the bank and officials of National Foods, Inc., on a plan to spend $1,450,000 on a new store addition and remodeling and refurbishing of the present store facility.

E. A. Karandjef, chairman and president of the Trust bank, notified the City Council a week ago that plans for the development would include widening of the block of Iowa Street from 20 feet to 32 feet, installation of new curb and guttering and resurfacing of the area at no cost to the city if the Future Secretaries hear bosses panel discussion

Members of Granite City High School Future Secretaries Association met at GCIS-North on Monday evening to hear a panel of bosses give their views on the qualities desired in a good secretary. The panel consisted of Stan Howlett, Personnel Department, Granite City Steel Division of National Steel; Ted Ellermann, St. Elizabeth Hospital; and Gilbert Wamsley, principal of Granite City High School-North.

The discussion was opened by Wamsley who stressed the personal attributes of cheerfulness, friendliness, flexibility, adaptability, straightforwardness, and the ability to organize as being as important as the usual secretarial skills of typing and shorthand, when evaluating the desirable qualities to be found in a good secretary. He suggested that a good rule to follow would be to treat everybody who came in the office as if he had the power to walk in and fire the boss. Also important was the quality of loyalty to the boss, and understanding that his personal life is a private matter. The secretary should consider her boss like she does her best friend, he stated, although you don't know all about them, you don't discuss it with others. Loyalty also entails protecting the boss from unwanted visitors. He concluded his section of the panel presentation by telling the girls that the secretarial career is one with fantastic possibilities, and they could go into any company at any level and rise to a very fine executive position.

Ted Ellermann spoke of the salary ranges for secretaries and beginners at St. Elizabeth Hospital. They desire a typing speed of 80 words per minute and shorthand speed of 100 words per minute. He stated that high school graduates should try to get a job at a clerk-typist level, and then work their way up to a secretarial position. This will provide them with good background experience and they will find and learn the secretarial job involves. The important thing is to get the job, then show how they can perform, and can outshine everyone else.

A pleasant smile was emphasized again by Ellermann as being an important asset. Also high on his list of priorities is telephone personality. He stressed the importance that the secretary read everything that comes into the office and be aware of what is going on; have an interest in the job; look for something you can relate to.

He reminded the girls that when they are secretaries on the executive level they had to be aware that they are examples for the rest of the organization, and the amount of time they take for lunch, or on coffee breaks, or if they are late or absent, are all factors noted by the other girls in the company who work for him.

The idea is that if the executive secretaries can do it, the junior secretaries can do it, too. He also allowed to get away with it. This affects the morale of the entire office staff.

Ellermann pointed out that the secretary's personality and the way she handles herself in all situations sets the tone for the whole office, and she can make it a happy day for everybody just by being pleasant.

Concluding the presentation was Stan Howlett, of Granite City Steel's Personnel Department. Howlett gave a few facts about requirements for getting a job at Granite City Steel. To file an application there an individual must be 18 years of age and insurable. They will be asked questions during the interview, and their ability to communicate will be noted. He spoke about the different kinds of questions used during an interview — those that require a direct answer, and the "probing" type that require more detailed answers. At the end of the interview, the person conducting the interview will take into consideration the fact that the individual is probably nervous, and then will discuss the interview with her frankly and make suggestions, and will encourage the individual to ask questions.

During the initial interview such items as dress code will not be discussed. Concerning the dress code, Howlett mentioned that Granite City Steel, like the majority of firms, does not permit the wearing of blue jeans to the office. In many firms it is difficult to be hired into a company at a secretarial position. At Granite City Steel new employees start as clerk-typists and are promoted as they demonstrate their ability, and as the openings occur. Granite City Steel's stenographic requirements are 55 words per minute typing and shorthand speed of 90 words per minute.

President Mary Winfield thanked the boss panel participants on behalf of the members, after lengthy question and answer session. Faculty advisor Pat Stamps reminded the members that those who wished to do so could specify FSA study hall in their schedules for next semester. Mrs. Judi Stamps, advisor, distributed record sheets for the girls to register their points which will be used in awarding the Miss FSA and Miss Junior FSA titles in May of next year. There will be no regular meeting in December, but some of the girls will be selected to assemble Christmas stockings at the office of Siderus Supply in the middle of December for distribution at the Madison County Sheltered Care Home, when the Tri-Cities Chapter, NSA conduct their annual Christmas party for the elderly residents there.

Nameoki Presbyterian services

The annual Thanksgiving Eve service of Nameoki United Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontoon Road, will be conducted at 7 p.m. today, it was announced by the Rev. Don Pierson, pastor.

An evening offering will be used for Christmas baskets and following the service the church deacons will provide refreshments in the fellowship hall. December events planned to precede the Christmas observance will include a program by the Madrigal Singers from South High School at 7:30 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 5; and a performance by the Covenant Players of California at 7 p.m. on Dec. 12. The group is a nationally known touring drama troupe whose ministry is to bring a spiritual message through means of delightful Christmas skits. Tickets costing $1 for adults may be obtained at the church office and children under 16 will be admitted free, the minister reports. The annual Christmas program of the church will be held at 7 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 19, featuring the Chancel Choir, the Youth Fellowship and Sunday School.

Moratorium on meter use for Yule shoppers

The Granite City Council Tuesday night approved a request for a "moratorium" on the use of parking meters in the downtown shopping area during all of December, but provided the concession "is not to include the (St. Elizabeth) Hospital area."

The request that meter use be discontinued during the Christmas shopping period was made by Jettie by Melvin C. Wilmseyer, chairman of the Downtown Development Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce. Wilmseyer told the council that the availability of parking space without charge "encourages shoppers to visit the downtown area."

Bassem Alderman Basarich of the Fifth Ward made a motion to grant the request without qualifications. Sam Whitmer, alderman of the Second Ward, said he believed the moratorium on meter use should be limited to the downtown shopping area and not to the area in the vicinity of the hospital. Whitmer said his original motion and moved the request be granted to not include the meters in the vicinity of the hospital. He specified boundaries for meter use were included in the motion.

GETTING READY FOR CHRISTMAS. The Downtown Granite City Merchants Association Beautification Committee headed by Mrs. Judy Stille, Mrs. Thelma Pyles and Mrs. Bonnie Goldenberg, have purchased $2,500 worth of overhead lighted decorations for the downtown GC area. Plans are to continue adding to the decorations each year. Firemen here

No county layoffs, board says today

The Madison County Board at its November meeting today took tentative budget action for the 1976-77 fiscal year starting Dec. 1. It was decided not to lay off any regular county employees, a possibility that had been discussed by the Finance Committee. While initial projections indicated only $7,346,000 might be available, current figures on combined revenue and balances total $8,300,764. The latter amount includes a balance of about $600,000 as the fiscal year nears an end, a discussion showed. Also in the $8,300,764 total is a sum of $176,600 announced this week as an additional federal grant. In other business today, the County Board set $40 as the per diem (meeting) pay of trustees of the new sanitary district to be formed in early December in parts of Madison and St. Clair Counties, primarily the Quad Cities and East St. Louis.

Jetteff except for the injury could have gained recognition as one of the finest backs in the nation, Wyrostek said. Letters, certificates and numerals were given out and it was noted that the team in its 7-2 season outscored foes 156 to 56. A special award went to Dr. George T. Wilkins Jr., and Mr. and Miss School Spirit awards for the fall season went to Jeff Sherman and Karen Davis.

Coach Gene Baker of the 1976 state championship soccer team presented awards to four of the team's players, Goalkeeper Barry Briggs as most improved player, Ken Pragma as Mr. Intensity, Joe Theis as Mr. Flexibility and Rick Fernandez as most valuable player of the season. The team posted a 26-1 record. Football Coach Stan Wojcik announced Tim Anderson as recipient of both the most valuable player and outstanding defensive player awards. Cliff Moran received the most outstanding offensive player award, and Mark Hartman was named the most improved senior on the squad. Harmony Class aids projects

The Harmony Class of Niederrhousen United Methodist Church completed plans to send donations to the Tree of Lights, Methodist Children's Home in Mount Vernon, Ill., the Methodist Village at Lawrenceville, Ill. and the church Christmas offering, at a meeting held in Wesley Hall during the weekend.

Charles Youngs opened the meeting with prayer and Waldo Frohardt presented a devotional lesson taken from an article by the Rev. Billy Graham entitled, "Five Grains of Corn."

Hosts for the monthly gathering were Mr. and Mrs. Youngs and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Huber.

After the business session, Mr. and Mrs. Huber displayed pictures of Japan, Honolulu and Manila.

Thanksgiving worship at Hope Lutheran

Thanksgiving Day worship will be at 9 a.m. Thursday at Hope Lutheran Church, 3715 Wabash Ave. Pastor David Fielding announces the public is welcome to attend the service where a special door offering will be taken to support the Mobile Meals program of the Quad-City area.

Non-perishable foods donated at the altar will be forwarded to the Protestant Welfare office. Special readings will be furnished by the teenage members of the church, according to Rev. Fielding.

Chapter KU entertains guest

Mrs. H. E. McCann of Belleville, state organizer for the P.E.O. Sisterhood, made her official visit in Granite City on Monday and was entertained at a dinner hosted at Charlie's Restaurant by the Chapter KU officers.

Following the dinner a business meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Leonard Davis with Mrs. Elmer Gruen presiding.

The ritual was exemplified by the officers during the session. Mrs. McCann expressed the need to make facts relating to Coty College in Nevada, Mo., known to the public and what the college has to offer students.

She also spoke about the P.E.O. Home in Knoxville, Ill. which is designed for retired persons, but is not a nursing home, she added.

Chapter members agreed to send monetary gifts to the International Peach Scholarship, Educational Fund, Coty College, the Continuing Education Fund, Illinois P.E.O. Home and the Lulu Corbitt Williams Welfare Fund.

A dessert course was served by the hostess to 18 members. The next meeting will be a Christmas party and gift exchange held in the home of Mrs. Dale Rea.

Seventh birthday of Robbie Doneff

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Doneff of Granite City, entertained guests at a party during the weekend in honor of the seventh birthday of their son, Robbie Doneff.

A cookie monster cake and theme prevailed and prizes were awarded to each guest.

Those attending included Tracey Doneff, sister of the honoree and Brian Ash, Phillip Beyer, Scott Campbell, Jennifer Carnahan, Barry Davis, Pat Lay, Rusty Davis, Shane Medlin, Tim Sherry, Tricia Dorsey, Ricky Mathis, Todd Broyles, Jeannine Rogers, David Gasparovic and Michael Seles.

GC School Board ok's equipment purchases

Two ice cream and milk shake-making machines, a commercial dishwasher and cabinets were among items purchased by the Granite City Board of Education at its last meeting.

The ice cream and milk shake machines were ordered for $3,566 each, or a total of $7,132, from Peerless Hotel Supplies, the lowest of five bidders.

Selfco Equipment Co. was the lowest of three bidders to supply and install a commercial dishwasher for $5,531, and the board accepted that bid.

Cabinets were ordered from Marcus Cabinet Co., the lowest of two bidders on three cabinets for the house under construction by building trades students in the high schools. The bid was $724, considerably lower than the $1,150 bid from Guth Kitchen Co.

Guth Kitchen submitted the only bids on a dishwasher, electric range, sink and vent hood for the building trades house and the board rejected the bids to seek additional prices.

Computer Forms and Supplies received a $660 contract as low bidder to print 50,000 report card forms. There were four other bidders.

The board selected John J. Connell Co., Inc., to supply chair glides at all schools for the repairs of chairs and desks. The firm was the lowest of two companies bidding on the glides, which will be ordered as needed.

Five companies bid on supplying books to the libraries at all schools and Demo-Alexco Co. was selected as the lowest bidder with a 38.2 per cent discount and 69 cent bid to process each book for library use.

The Instructor, a magazine subscription service, was selected to replace McGregor Magazine Co. to supply magazines to the libraries.

The Instructor was lowest of five bidders at $5,559 for the magazines requested. The district has used McGregor for several years, but rejected its $6,014 bid this year.

The board gave permission to purchase a boiler control panel for Parkway School, replacing one 10 years old. An exact replacement costing $328 is required and is available only from Hester Bradley Co., it was noted. The board gave Tully A. Heubner, director of business affairs, authority to purchase the panel without bidding.

Heubner reported it was necessary to purchase $73 in parts and use $100 in labor to repair a sink disposal unit at

Chapter hears Victor Koenig

The Drusilla Andrews Chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution (DAR) held its monthly meeting during the weekend at Charlie's Restaurant with Victor Koenig, Granite City Civil Defense Director-Coordinator, as the featured speaker.

Koenig, who has held the Granite City position since 1961, is also the national membership chairman for the United States Civil Defense Commission. According to Koenig, a simple definition of civil defense is "people meeting together to protect their own lives and property." Each person in Granite City contributes 25 cents via taxes to support the civil defense organization.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Wed., Nov. 24, 1976 Page 10

Records, located in several different places in the city, are available as to the proper persons to contact in the event of any emergency arising in the city. Civil defense works best, according to Koenig, through various civic, social, or professional groups in the city, not through individual persons, in the case of an emergency.

In discussing our national preparedness, it was reported that the United States spends, yearly, about 50 cents per person, while the Soviet Union spends $4 per person for civil defense.

During the business session, Mrs. Janet Wilson, regent, led the opening ceremonies and the group recited the pledge of allegiance. Mrs. Eva Meier read the President General's message for November.

A number of donations were approved to various DAR projects, including the two Indian schools, Bacone College and St. Mary's School for Girls. Other donations were made to the American History, occupational therapy, and medical scholarship funds, to the NSDAR Seimes Micholm Center and the National Museum, and to the National Genealogical Records Binding Fund. Members agreed to join the Edwardsville DAR chapter in presenting an ROTC award to a SUE student in the spring.

Mrs. Grace Johnson, a former Madison resident, is serving as one of the editors for the newspaper in the retirement home in Galveston, Tex., where she and Mr. Johnson (the former Madison postmaster) are now living, it was reported.

Members were reminded of the December meeting which the state regent, Mrs. J. Kennedy Kincaid, will attend and everyone was urged to attend. Others at the meeting were Misses Ella Ray Smith and Nelle Hart, and Mesdames Emma Schoen, Ruth Mitchell, and Barbara Williams.

WAC VETS YULE PARTY Women's Army Corps Veterans Association Chapter 48 will hold a monthly meeting Thursday, Dec. 2, at the Carpenters building, 1401 Hampton Ave., St. Louis, Room 218 at 8 p.m. A gift exchange and Christmas party will be hosted by Carol Everding, Selma Gross and Harriet Backhaus.

Burglary on Terrace Lane

The family of William Patton, 3510 Terrace Lane, returned home Monday to find a bedroom window had been broken and forced open. Police were notified and entered the house, finding it ransacked.

The case is a color television set was found on a bed, but the inner workings of the television had been stolen. Also known missing are a pump shotgun in a case, an antique wall clock and about $5 in quarters.

Teeth marks from vice grips or some kind of tool were found on the doorknob of the side door, but an entry attempt there was foiled by a dead-bolt lock.

Tests of tires, chains may aid winter drivers

Granite City Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer, who's charged with official responsibilities in protecting area citizens during emergencies, expressed concern today that important new winter driving information may not have come to the attention of all drivers.

Veizer referred to new information developed during the annual test program of the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards. This research, he pointed out, provides basic facts for the safe winter driving educational program sponsored by the International Association of Chiefs of Police. New developments cited by Chief Veizer include:

Radial vs. bias belted tires in snow—Are radial tires with standard highway treads a suitable substitute for snow tires because of their radial construction?

National Safety Council skid-testers researched this question. Their finding: Tire performance in traction on snow-covered surfaces is not a function of tire construction (bias belted or radial). Tire performance, primarily, is a function of tread design.

When a radial tire has a snow tread, it performs as a snow tire. When it has a tread approaching that of a snow tire, its performance approaches that of a snow tire. When it has a regular highway tread, it performs like a regular highway tire.

In short, Veizer said, a regular radial tire is no substitute for a snow tire unless it also has an effective snow type tread.

Using tire chains with radial tires—The chief recalled questions about the use of tire chains with radial tires. He cited tests by the United States

Auto Club last year that showed that tire chains can be used with radial tires without concern for sidewall damage.

In the tests, chains were driven at a sustained speed of 35 miles an hour on dry, bare pavement without any sidewall or tread gouging on any of the radials tested, even after 150 miles of this unusual punishment.

Cable chains vs. conventional reinforced tire chains—In some areas, cable chains are available to motorists. A "cable" chain uses a cable instead of conventional chain links to form the framework of the chain. Short sections of metal tubing are mounted on the cross chain cables.

In the National Safety Council's latest tests, cable chains developed only about half the traction provided by conventional reinforced chains on glare ice.

Chief Veizer summed up these new findings this way: Informed drivers and adequately equipped vehicles are the best way to minimize adverse driving problems and to keep cars and traffic moving under the worst winter conditions.

$3,065 theft

Items with values totaling about $3,065 were stolen from the station wagon of Raymond Nelson, 3120 Jill Ave., parked in his driveway Monday. A coat hanger was found under the car which was believed used to unlock a door.

Stolen were a rifle, a shotgun, a tackle box and fishing equipment, four fishing rods, a trolling motor, two suitcases filled with clothing, three rings, a suit bag and suits and a jacket.

Memorial services for L.A. Lewright

Memorial services were conducted Monday at the Kirkwood (Mo.) Methodist Church for L.A. Lewright, manager of the F. W. Woolworth Co., Granite City.

He died on Saturday, Nov. 20. Mr. Lewright was employed by the F. W. Woolworth Co. in 1934 and during the past 42 years held various positions including management of several stores throughout the region. He has been manager of the local store for 15 years. Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Eloise Lewright and two children, Jerry and Louann.

Plasa Bird

article entitled "The Bird That Devours Men," and called the monster the Plasa Bird for the first time.

Russell related a legend, much of which he created, which persists as the explanation of the photograph, Sangamon State University historians note.

The Plasa bird, Russell wrote, was a huge, flying monster which lived on the cliffs, destroyed Indian villages, consumed it captives, and resisted efforts to destroy it.

Chief Outaga, however, during a dream inspired by the Great Spirit, conceived a plan to kill the terrible bird.

Using himself as bait and 20 of his bravest warriors to launch poisoned arrows, Outaga carried out the plan successfully.

The Plasa bird fell into the Mississippi River and drowned, it was related.

In commemoration of this event, Russell contended, the grateful Indians placed the image of the Plasa bird on the bluff.

In 1841, the Plasa bird was included in a lithograph by John Caspar Wild and in 1846-47 it was sketched by Henry Lewis for a major collection of lithographs which appeared in 1854.

Rudolf Frederick Kurz, a visiting Swiss artist, described the photograph in 1847 as "a colossal eagle," and in the same year John Russell published a revised version of the legend.

Speculation continued throughout the 19th Century, even after the entire rock upon which the photograph appeared was quarried away for making lime.

Although there is now way of ascertaining just how the original photograph looked, the most commonly accepted version was a sketch made by a group of old citizens of Alton.

It has been reproduced numerous times and is now painted on a cliff along the Great River Road above Alton.

Thunder bird of the Dakota Sioux, medicine animal of the Winnebago, a figure of Father Marquette's imagination, or an avenging monster of the bluffs of the Mississippi River, the Plasa bird is an indelible part of Illinois legends.

Nameoki to propose projects in hearing

Programs to aid persons in paying tap-on fees for proposed new sanitary sewers, a water system to provide fire hydrants in the Cloverleaf Subdivision, housing rehabilitation and program to benefit low and moderate income residents are among those to be considered by the Nameoki Township Committee on Community Development Tuesday, Nov. 30, at 7 p.m. in the town hall, 4250 Highway 102.

Louis Whitsett, supervisor of the township, estimates Nameoki Township will qualify for about $84,684 while another $3,769 may be allocated to township residents in Ponton Beach and East Madison.

All meetings of the township's Community Development committee are open to the public, but only members of the committee may vote on proposals for spending the allocation.

The township's application for funds must be submitted to the district by Dec. 10. Whitsett also noted $54,000 remains in this year's discretionary fund which can be allocated for the highest priority projects in the county. He suggested the committee explore possible projects to qualify for a portion of the remaining funds from this fiscal year.

In this fiscal year, the township allocated $35,000 to the Long Lake Fire Department for building improvements, $20,000 to the State Park Fire Department to aid operations, $1,113 to each fire district for fire hydrants and $6000 for a park in State Park Place.

The club will conduct another paper drive this weekend, it was announced. Persons wishing to donate papers may bring them Saturday or Sunday to a trailer located on the church parking lot at Ponton and Johnson roads.

State license plates at 4 local banks as of Dec. 1

Over-the-counter sales of 1977 passenger license plates in Illinois financial institutions will begin Wednesday, Dec. 1. Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett announced this week. Included will be the First Granite City National Bank, Trust and Savings Bank, American National Bank and the First National Bank in Madison.

A record 432 banks and savings and loan associations will participate in the program this year, along with 700 currency exchanges in the Chicago area.

"During the last four years, we have substantially increased the number of banks authorized to sell passenger plates," Howlett said. "Beginning June 1, 1977, many banks will be selling B truck and TA trailer plates over-the-counter for the first time."

"Last year, financial institutions sold 2,316,219 sets of plates, almost half of the passenger plates sold, for overall savings to the taxpayers of more than $1.5 million in postage alone."

Howlett explained that it cost 67 cents to process a set of plates in a bank last year, while it can cost up to 63 cents to mail a set of plates from Springfield. Plates also may be purchased over-the-counter at three secretary of state motor vehicle facilities in Chicago, and the Centennial building and Dirksen Parkway facility drive-in windows in Springfield.

Chicago facilities are located at 2301 W. Lexington St., 5401 N. Elston Ave. and 9901 S. Dr. Martin Luther King Drive. Notarization is not required for purchase of license plates. Howlett re-emphasized that pre-printed renewal applications should be used when purchasing 1977 plates over-the-counter. These forms have been mailed to all registered car owners.

"We again urge everyone to use his computer-printed form when buying license plates," Howlett stressed.

"By drawing more banks into the program, plates have been made so easily available that no one in Illinois needs to drive more than 20 miles to purchase them," he concluded.

Businesses hurt by drought may obtain loans

Long, Melvin Price (Dem., 23rd Illinois) has announced that long-term loans to businesses affected by last summer's drought are available through the Small Business Administration.

Price said that to qualify for such a loan a business must show not only loss of revenue, but must have been placed in a position of some jeopardy as a result of the drought conditions, which were present in Madison County from May 1 through Aug. 25, and in St. Clair County from June 1 through July 31.

The SBA also is authorized to guarantee loans through banks. Cong. Price said. Such loans are payable at an interest rate of 6 1/2 per cent.

Persons interested in applying may contact the SBA district office at 219 South Dearborn St., Chicago, at 312-555-4028, or the SBA branch office at One North Old State Capital Plaza, Springfield, at 217-525-4416.

Statistics by the Illinois Department of Public Health show that 17 cases of St. Louis encephalitis were reported in Illinois during 1976. The cases involved eight males and nine females and occurred in 15 counties. No deaths were associated with the disease. The figures are in sharp contrast with last year's epidemic, when 578 cases and 47 deaths were reported in Illinois. Public health officials credit an early warning program and improved mosquito control efforts by local governments for the reduction.

Ronald E. Stackler, director of the Illinois Department of Registration, has suspended the license of a Chicago medical doctor who allegedly wrote 1,082 prescriptions for controlled drugs for no therapeutic purpose. A hearing is to be held by the Illinois Medical Disciplinary Board.

News notes

Gov. Daniel Walker has officially opened to traffic 39 miles of the Central Illinois Expressway, the longest stretch of freeway ever opened at one time in Illinois. Motorists now have the use of a four-lane, uninterrupted freeway from the Illinois-Indiana border to Jacksonville, 156 miles west. Work on another 22 miles of the expressway, including the Quincy Bypass, is under way, leaving only 50 miles to complete the route to Quincy.

The Illinois Commerce Commission has published a pamphlet, "Guide to Your Rights as a Utility Consumer," explaining certain commission orders and state laws designed to protect consumers' rights. The free pamphlet included sections on security deposits, service shutoffs, establishing credit and problems with utility bills or service. Quad-Cityans may write the Illinois Commerce Commission, Consumer Protection Office, 527 E. Capitol Ave., Springfield 62706 for a copy of the pamphlet.

The Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development reports that shipping tonnage at the port of Chicago was up 41 per cent this year over last year's figures. During the seven-month 1976 shipping season, 1.7 million shipping tons were handled at the port, compared to 1.2 million during the same period last year.

Yule mailing date advanced

The Postal Service has advanced its suggested Christmas mailing deadlines for domestic parcels and letter mail to Dec. 3 and 10, respectively, in anticipation of an exceptionally high mail volume.

With the impact of greatly increased mail volume generated by the 15-state United Parcel Service strike in the east and south, and its residual effect on other parts of the country, Quad-City area authorities said the Postal Service is compelled to ask the public to mail even earlier than normal.

The service said that because of the dedication of its employees, many of whom have been working long hours, it has had little trouble handling the increased mail volume since the parcel strike began in mid-September. It expressed confidence it will continue to be able to cope with the increase, with the cooperation of the public and major mailers.

Parcel volume has already more than doubled in the strike area and is up significantly nationwide, and letter mail is also on the rise, postmasters at Granite City, Madison and Venice said today. They noted that of the increase, to date, has been from large volume business mailers, who presort their mail and deposit at scheduled, non-peak hours in plants prepared to handle it. For example, the service said it is working closely with shippers of perishable goods to handle millions of gift packages normally moved by other shippers. As Christmas nears, however, more and more of the mail will be from the general public, deposited at neighborhood post offices, branches and stations, on top of the already unprecedented business mail volume, the Postal Service said.

As a result, the service said, while priority will be given to letter mail, many postal facilities normally dedicated to letter mail may have to be used to prevent an unmanageable backlog of parcels.

Therefore, the Postal Service said, it strongly urges the public to deposit their parcels by Dec. 3 and their letters and greeting cards by Dec. 10 to assure delivery by Christmas.

Suggested mailing dates for international mail are unchanged. However, customers were strongly urged by the Postal Service to deposit overseas packages and greetings immediately, and to send them by airmail if they want to assure delivery by Christmas.

Some levee district bills for sewer fees in arrears

Some billings to Madison and Venice residents for sewer rental fees charged by the East Side Levee and Sanitary District for sewage treatment are running three months behind, but will be "caught up" with the next billing due in January for the last quarter of this year, an official of the district said early this week.

William "Mike" Ebersold, mayor of Venice and a member of the levee district board of trustees, said the clerical staff which handles billings for sewage treatment has been reorganized and now is catching up on all back bills, some of which date back to June. Ebersold said the volume of work in the billing overtaxed the staff and caused a backlog. He said bills now are being prepared that will embody a six months charge for some residents, but that billing should be up to date by January. Bills are prepared by quarters and are based on Interurban Water Co. readings of the volume of water used by each customer. Sewage from Venice and Madison now is treated at the Lansdowne sewage treatment plant near National City, operated by the levee district.

ROYAL POLYNESIAN DANCERS. Different from the usual "hula" performances, the music of the group is different, the movements are different and so are the dancers. This group of genuine Pacific Islanders, all from Samoa, were chosen originally to represent their nation's Bicentennial in Japan, which coincides with this country's. They have been on a world tour, as a cultural exchange mission. They currently are appearing at the restaurant nightly except Monday, at the Hu Ke Lau Restaurant, 1537 Johnson Road. Leader of the group of four girls and four young men on the left in background is Lelei Lelaia, son of the Paramount Chief of Samoa. The group has four times won the Pacific Dancing Championship and held command performances for The Royal Families of England, Denmark and Sweden, and the King of Malaysia. (Press Photo Photo)

Blair activities are successful

The Halloween parade and party and an open house held at Blair Elementary School, Madison, were both reported as successful during a meeting last week.

Charles McCaskill, school principal, commented on the open house and Mrs. Barbara Wadison, club secretary, reported on the Halloween activities at a meeting of the Blair School Mothers Club.

Mrs. Kit Stallbert of the Madison County Civil Defense Unit and Chuck Jennings of the Illinois Department of Health, spoke regarding the swine flu inoculation program to be implemented Dec. 4-5.

A recent membership drive, headed by Mrs. Patricia Shipp, was reported as a success with 23 new members.

Final preparations for a pre-Christmas sock-hop, for the students at Blair, were made. The proceeds will help furnish treats for Blair's annual Christmas program.

A suggestion to represent and include the Dunbar School, which at this time has no Parents Club, was accepted. Steps to have the club sanctioned by Dunbar's principal and teachers are being taken.

Research project at proposed road

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is participating in one of the largest research projects ever undertaken by the educational institution.

A contract entered into by the university and Illinois Department of Transportation calls for an archeological assessment along 134 miles of proposed highway right-of-way for F.A.P. 410 between Columbia and Pinckneyville. Two alternate routes are included in the survey.

It is estimated that the assessment will take a year to complete and cost $100,000.

Sidney G. Denny, chairman of the anthropology department at SIUE, says the research proposal calls for the location of all historic and prehistoric sites in the 6,500-acre area, based primarily on surface scatter data.

An aerial flight survey, with photographs, will be conducted along the route to determine the extent of ground cover. Ground work will then be scheduled around crop removal and other more permanent types of cover.

All plowed fields within the area will be walked, by two three-man crews. Sites not buried or obscured by vegetation cover will be documented by the walkover technique, Denny said.

In some cases, such as weeded and wooded area or particularly large sites, coring, shovel testing or phosphating may be utilized to discover or clarify site boundaries.

The archeological crews have already uncovered a number of sites that show evidence of early habitation. Artifacts recovered from the early settlements include very small bits of broken pottery, stones with man-made projectile points, and chipping debris.

In trying to record what functions were carried on at a particular prehistoric site, the anthropologists have to take into consideration many variables. A researcher must ascertain whether or not the artifact is still lying in its original resting place or if it has been moved.

According to Kenneth Williams, staff assistant in the anthropology department, there are many ways in which artifacts may be scattered. They may have been dragged across the land by a farmer's plow, washed out of the sides of banks by erosion, or even blown away by the wind.

Animals burrowing in the ground may have scattered them. Or they may have been disturbed by the Indians themselves. "The prehistoric people spread their refuse around more than we do," Bill Woods, another staff assistant, said.

The Indian did a lot more earth-moving than modern man might think. He built his home over a "house basin" and provided himself and his family with storage and disposal pits. Even where there are no visible artifacts, there is still evidence of past land use in the soil.

"The people who lived there deposited a variety of organic and inorganic debris into the soil, including garbage and even bodies," Woods said.

"This debris changes the chemical content of the soil where it has been deposited, raising the concentration of carbon, nitrogen, calcium and phosphorus."

The final report of the project will include an assessment of the possible value of each site found, a detailed map of site locations, drawings and photographs of distinctive artifacts, a summary analysis of cultural materials, and suggestions for future diagnostic work or mitigation projects on specific sites. So far, the anthropologists and their crews have uncovered more than 20 sites showing evidence of prior habitation; some were known sites, and others are new discoveries.

By the time the researchers get to the end of each proposed alternate route, they expect to find close to 200 aboriginal sites. "Most of them will not be primarily known," Williams believes.

WHEN A ROCK IS NOT A ROCK, Bill Woods (left), staff assistant in the anthropology department at SIUE, assists Diana Vanek, Glen Carbon, in measuring artifacts for an anthropology survey. The survey is being conducted by the university along 134 miles of proposed highway right-of-way between Columbia and Pinckneyville. Miss Vanek is a senior majoring in anthropology.

Decorated baskets and boxes in keeping with the Christmas holidays, filled with canned foods and handmade tree ornaments which were prepared by Quad-City Brownies and Girl Scouts, will be taken to five neighborhood "Festivals of Giving," beginning with two events on Saturday, Dec. 4.

Neighborhood Two, under the leadership of Mrs. Janis Smith, will hold its yule project from 1 to 3 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 4, at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church. The 200 enrolled scouts will be served a Christmas luncheon, followed by entertainment and a visit by Santa Claus. Each troop will distribute its prepared baskets of food and gifts to needy families they select.

Neighborhood Six, led by Mrs. Barbara Phillips, is to hold a "Toy and Doll Show" from 1 to 3 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 4, at the First United Methodist Church, Collinsville. Each troop member made a toy or doll which will be judged during the afternoon, and the winners will receive an award. The items will be included in food baskets donated to the Collinsville Kiwanis Club for distribution.

Neighborhood Three is planning its program around Thanksgiving theme of giving instead of a Christmas party, according to the chairman, Mrs. Ruth Dolenc. More than 250 Brownies and Girl Scouts will meet from 2 to 4 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 5, at St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church and will deliver their baskets to area families of their choosing. Refreshments will be served after each troop presents a special skill for entertainment.

Mrs. Marge Freeman, chairman of Neighborhood Four, announced its festival will be observed from 2 to 3 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 5, at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church. An estimated 500 Brownies and Girl Scouts are expected to attend.

Neighborhood Five will hold its family and scout event from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 12, at Nameoki School, according to Mrs. Margot Clements, chairman. She added the 350 scouts have made arrangements to donate their baskets to Concordia Lutheran Church for distribution to Quad-City families in need. Skits performed by the girls will be wide entertainment, followed by trimming a Christmas tree to be left for the school.

Neighborhood One under the direction of Mrs. Judy Donaldson will hold a leaders meeting on Tuesday to plan the Festival of Giving for Madison and Venice Brownies and Girls Scouts.

Members answered to a roll call of "What are you thankful for?" followed by a topic on the Lutheran Wheel Right Foundation. Refreshments were served by Mesdames Shirley Smith, Hulda Klug and Eda Crabb.

History week, statehood day

Declaring that "a renewed appreciation of history" is probably the greatest benefit to Americans from the celebration of the Bicentennial, Gov. Dan Walker has proclaimed Nov. 25 through Dec. 3 as Illinois History Week.

The proclamation also designates Dec. 3 as Statehood Day—the 150th anniversary of the date Illinois entered the Union.

Saying that "Illinois' official commemoration of 200 years of American history will end Dec. 3," Walker urged Illinoisans "to direct children's interest to historical events" as he commended "all Illinoisans who have added to our knowledge of the past."

To help interested organizations observe the week, the Illinois State Historical Society has prepared an Illinois History Week kit. The kit includes a copy of the proclamation, a brochure with program ideas and a poster.

Those wishing a copy of the brochure, "Making History in Illinois," or the 16x24-inch poster or a copy of the proclamation may write: Illinois History Week, Old State Capitol, Springfield, Ill. 62706.

SCHOOL HEARINGS

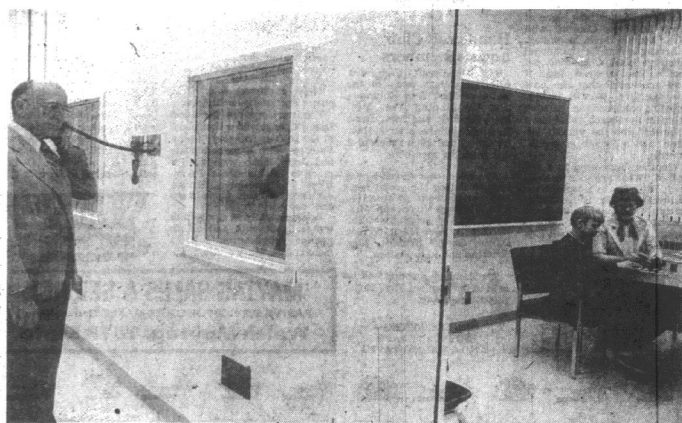

One Madison High School student was expelled by the Board of Education at a special meeting Tuesday night pending her parents petitioning the board for another hearing. The board reinstated another MHS student on probation.

Funds raised during the over-the-top fall drive will help finance the 1977 calendar year operations of UW agencies, whose allocations are to be set by the United Way board of directors.

LISTENING POST IN NEW FACILITIES. Demonstrating the use of the monitoring system in the new Reading Center facilities in Classroom Building II at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is David Bear, chairman of the department of elementary education. He is listening to a simulated tutoring session being conducted in the tutoring room at right by Mary Holderman of Highland. The monitor may also visually observe the session through the window in the wall. Persons of all ages are referred to the clinic. The goal of the Reading Center program is to train reading specialists while providing individual help to the students.

Trash truck fire

Fire in the bed of a Milam Corp. East truck hauling trash at 9:50 a.m. Monday, caused no damage to the vehicle but did result in considerable activity at the Nameoki Road Fire Station.

The driver became aware of the fire while driving near the intersection of Nameoki and Amos Avenues and immediately drove to the fire station where he was instructed to drive to Amos Avenue and Fair Oak Drive. Upon arrival the burning trash was dumped and then extinguished by firemen within 23 minutes.

Venice council delays action on 708 board

The Venice City Council Tuesday night delayed action on a proposal to form a Venice-Madison 708 Board, recommended by Milton Morris, pending an in-depth study of city obligations.

Under the Community Mental Health Act, House Bill 708, cities may form their own Mental Health board, levy taxes and receive some tax monies from the county.

Morris, the founder of OATH, Inc., (Organization to Aid the Handicapped), which has a building in the 700 block of State Street in Madison is trying to get the two cities to join in the formation of a local board.

The Madison County 708 board stopped funding OATH, Inc., in Madison.

Concern was expressed by city officials as to what other mental health type programs they would be obligated to under Illinois law if the two cities did form their own board. The availability of county funds without problems was also questioned. The need for a tax referendum prior to creating the local board needs study according to Venice councilmen.

The board approved a $490,000 building permit for the Venice School District for an 8,400 square-foot building to be located behind the Venice Lincoln-Technical Center. The permit was needed as part of a grant application under the Economic Development Assistance (EDA) program.

If the grant is approved and the building erected it would be used to house vocational automotive training programs. A resolution was passed which will enable the city to receive reimbursement from the Illinois Department of Transportation of about $25,000 paid by the city to their resident engineer on the underpass project.

Edward Shank, director of Madison County Economic Opportunities Commission (EOC), reported that his organization is attempting to locate a health care services center in Venice.

Tentative plans call for renting and remodeling a building in Venice. The program would offer a variety of medical services with fees based on the persons ability to pay.

Mayor William Ebersold reminded council members that it is time for them to begin preparing lists for Christmas baskets and turning in the names to the city controller.

Chief of Police Ralph D. Bravley reported that the Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission has approved for the third year partial funding of the joint Madison-Venice detective team. Venice will receive $6,000 toward the program.

Guidelines

mission rulings was similar to a number of incidents in which the council, over the years, has either granted or denied use permits, and in some instances rezoning, against the recommendations of the Plan Commission.

In its actions during the council session, the council denied an R-5 (multiple residential) classification to the Fraternal Order of Eagles for construction of a parking lot at 2881 Iowa St. The Eagles organization had requested a C-1 (commercial) classification but the Plan Commission, in its hearings Nov. 18, denied that request and instead granted a R-5 classification.

James Johnson, a resident of the neighborhood who had protested the proposed project before the Plan Commission, was allowed to speak. He objected to the project on grounds that rezoning would devalue property in the neighborhood, permit litter to accumulate and traffic in and out of the lot would create a noise nuisance.

The council also denied a use permit to Dr. B. P. Dioneda for use of property at 2819 Madison Avenue for a medical office, although the Plan Commission had recommended the permit be granted.

Mrs. Marilyn Layloff, a resident of the neighborhood, was permitted to address the council and said that a medical office at that location would devalue neighboring property. She noted that commercial operations should be kept in business areas because properties granted special use permits never revert back to the original zoning, "but are an open invitation to more business operations."

She told the council that a petition bearing 32 signatures opposing the project was filed with the Plan Commission at a hearing on the original request. While the aldermen concurred in a Plan Commission recommendation to deny a C-1 rezoning to permit Mrs. Rhonda Mazzarella to operate a beauty shop at 2808 Roosevelt Ave., the action was followed immediately by a motion by Alderman Curtis Blevins of the Fifth Ward that a special use permit for the beauty shop be granted. This motion was approved, thereby reversing the plan commission recommendation.

In a fourth case, the only one in which the council fully concurred with the Plan Commission recommendations, the aldermen approved the granting of a special use permit to Leon Scroggins, Granite City attorney, to establish a law office in a residence at 2632 Madison Avenue.

Scroggins, who also spoke before the council, had sought a C-1 (commercial) classification. The plan commission denied that request and granted a special use permit. Scroggins asked the council to reinstate a C-1 classification as he had plans to rent offices in the building to other occupants, which he could not do under a special use permit. The use permit allows office operation only by the person who receives the permit.

In a fifth case, that of John Hadley who requested a special use permit for the retail sale of stone fireplaces at 2947 Madison Ave., which is presently zoned C-1, the aldermen agreed to a motion by Alderman Ronald Coleman, chairman of the council's planning and zoning committee, to refer the matter to the aldermen of the ward in which the property is located, Aldermen Roy Poulos and Clyde Boyd.

The Plan Commission had recommended in that case that the special use permit be granted.

PUSHES CAR INTO DOOR

Boyd Presley, 2338 Emert St., watched while a man drove his car into Presley's, pushing Presley's car on his driveway and through his garage door. There was extensive damage to the garage door. Presley said he believes the man acted intentionally, since he rang Presley's doorbell a moment before so Presley looked out the window and witnessed the incident.

Nameoki pays disputed bill for drainage line

The Nameoki Town Board of Auditors voted Monday night to pay a $12,000 bill for replacing an underground drainage system at the end of Ivy Lane, but only after a legal opinion was read, allowing them to declare the work was done to correct an emergency situation without seeking bids for the job.

Louis Whitsell, Nameoki Township supervisor, objected, saying, "I have been trying to solve this problem for several years, but it is not an emergency. I am glad the work is done, but I am upset over the procedure without competitive bidding."

Albert Bell, highway commissioner of the township, has contended it was impossible to bid the work, since the problem was underground and contractors could not determine how much work would be required to repair the drainage line.

He said he hired 11411 Sewer Service at $1,200 per day to do the work, which required about 10 days. The town board previously had authorized him to have the sewer repaired and had agreed to pay half the cost from federal revenue sharing funds.

Whitsell contended federal revenue sharing funds could not be used for a project done without competitive bidding, without endangering all of the revenue sharing grant.

The board tabled action on the bill at its previous meeting until a legal opinion could be obtained from the township's attorney, H. Carl Runge.

Runge's opinion was read to the board Monday night. He said Bell attempted to prepare specifications for bidding, but found it could not be bid. He then arranged for the work to be done on a per diem basis "for the purpose of beginning to clear the blockage and determine the nature and extent of it."

"During this time, the contractor brought a substantial amount of equipment to the scene and when the true situation was learned, it was the judgment of Mr. Bell that the original contractor should proceed with his equipment already on the scene on an emergency basis to complete the work."

"This was principally because rains could drastically affect that portion of the work that had already been done and might require complete duplication of the labor."

"It is my opinion under these facts and circumstances that these events did, in fact, constitute an emergency which would constitute an exception to the bid rule," Runge said.

He suggested, however, that the half to be paid by the town board should be paid directly from the town fund health appropriation.

After hearing the opinion, the board voted to declare the work an emergency and then voted to pay half the bill from road and bridge funds and half from the town fund.

A bill from Bell for $1,100 for pipe used in the project was held by the board awaiting a legal opinion whether it requires approval from the county superintendent of highways.

It had been tabled at the previous meeting as not approved by the county superintendent, although all bills in excess of $1,000 for any to finalize the district's application for spending its $663,943.

District Two includes Granite City, Madison, Venice, Pontoon Beach, and Granite City, Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships.

Other districts and the amount each will be allocated if the full $3 million is received include District One, the largest, with $860,430 for the Alton-Wood River area.

District Three, including Hamel and Alhambra, will be allocated $1,067. District Four, including Edwardsville and Collinsville, is to receive $436,448, and District Five, the Highland area, is slated for an allocation of $103,360.

The county government will receive $286,932 in a separate category and $300,000 will be reserved in a discretionary fund account for high priority projects throughout the county.

Another $105,000 is set aside for administration and planning of the project.

Mrs. Kane explained there is a possibility the county could have its next-year allocation reduced, if there is an insufficient amount of money available in the program.

Tree of Lights

Several choir presentations are scheduled. Coffee and doughnuts will be served.

Capt. Tompkins said that more than 900 families and individuals were helped as a result of last year's Tree of Lights drive. He said that anyone wishing to make a contribution to the Salvation Army campaign may mail donations to Post Office Box 338.

Fund raising efforts will continue through the Christmas shopping season.

Hebrews 6:1. "Therefore leaving the principles of the doctrine of Christ, let us go on unto perfection..."

The Christian must face it. He is in a race that will never be won here on the face of this earth. The kingdom of Christ is not here, therefore we are not to lay up treasures on earth but, we are to lay up treasures in Heaven.

I do mean that we must ever strive toward perfection, that we must never allow ourselves to be content with our present spiritual condition. Our walk with God is a going forward walk. We must press on. Forgetting those things behind us, looking forward to those things before us. We can be better, we can do more, we can strive to enter into God's kingdom.

Through Christ we can do ALL things. Why not today?

Rotarians hear KC history

On Jan. 9, 1882, a young priest, Father Michael McGinney of New Haven, Conn., began what is today an organization of more than 1,200,000 Catholic men throughout the world known as the Knights of Columbus.

A.L. "Pete" Metcalf, current grand knight of Tri-Cities Council 1086, spoke last week to the Madison-Venice Rotary Club meeting in the Madison Recreation Center.

"Father McGinney met with a small group of young men in his parish and they agreed in general with the objectives of the new organization: 'To provide a system of fraternal insurance, to care for widows and orphans of members, to provide fellowship among the members, to aid the cause of religion and to perform charitable, educational and patriotic works for the benefit of their fellowman and their country, he said.

"The founders of the order felt that the name of the new organization should honor Christopher Columbus, and it should embody knightly ideals of service to church, country and fellowman.

"After an original proposal of 'Sons of Columbus,' the title of 'Knights of Columbus' was adopted," he said.

"On March 29, 1882, the state of Connecticut granted the charter to the Knights of Columbus and within 23 years the organization was firmly established from Quebec to California and from Florida to Washington.

"Today there are members in every state of the union, in the 10 provinces of Canada, the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, Mexico, and the Philippines."

"The benefits have been disbursed among members, widows, children and other dependents since the founding of the order, thus helping to hold together many homes that otherwise might have broken up by loss of the family bread winner," Metcalf said.

"Charity is foremost in our order. Throughout the years victims of earthquakes, floods, hurricanes, fires or whatever disaster befalls men have been aided by the Knights. We will always be there to help anyone in need regardless of faith, color or special affiliation," Metcalf emphasized.

"The Knights of Columbus pioneered the blood donor program and we all know what a blessing this has been. Since 1938 our Order has donated more than 150,000 pints of blood," Metcalf said.

Metcalf noted the organization's patriotic aims and how this country protects the freedom of religion for all churches and that everywhere, except in the communist countries, the church is allowed to function freely.

Concern over dry fields

Illinois fields and forests are the driest they have been since the mid-1950s and, because of this, farmers need to be especially careful with fire, according to Paul Williams, Illinois director of agriculture.

"The number of acres of forest and cropland that have been burned this year is already running way ahead of the total for all of last year," Williams said.

"The last time the state was this dry, more than a quarter million acres were burned by uncontrolled fires. We have the potential for the same kind of damage this year if people get careless."

"There's just not any excuse to burn brush or crop residue this year with conditions as dry as they are. Leaving residue on the ground or turning it back into the soil will decrease erosion, improve soil moisture and add organic matter, in addition to reducing the risk of fire."

"Landowners should remember that if they are liable for damages if a fire they set gets out of control and leaves their property."

"There are fire watches out for most of central and southern Illinois and there are several counties in the southern part of the state that are prohibiting all burning without special permits from the local fire wardens."

"Landowners should caution hunters to be careful with fire. If a fire does break out, they should report it immediately to the nearest law enforcement agency or fire department."

PLAN PAPER DRIVE
Boy Scouts of Troop 13 will conduct a scrap paper drive Friday through Sunday, and will make pickups for persons calling 677-6817 or 931-2249. It was announced today. Paper may be delivered to the parking lot at Schuck's store in the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center where a trailer will be located.

Formal concert by GCHS North band

The Granite City High School North band will open its season of four concerts on Monday, Dec. 6, at 8 p.m. at the South auditorium.

The first concert of the series will feature the band dressed in formal attire — the girls wearing formal and the boys tuxedo style band uniforms.

The one-hour concert will include representative music of several periods, as well as seasonal selections and lighter musical fare.

Ushers and programs will be furnished by members of the band auxiliaries — the pom-pom, rifle and flag squads.

Introductory and welcoming remarks by Principal Gilbert V. Walmsley, Student Council President Brian Litzelman and Band President Richard Bunch will open the concert.

The remaining three concerts are scheduled to be held in the cafeteria at North High. They are: pop and protest concert, Monday, Feb. 7; third concert, Monday, March 7; and fourth concert, Monday, April 18.

Tickets for the series are available from North band students.

The tickets admit two adults at a cost of $4. Single admission is 75 cents for adults, 35 cents for students and 10 cents for band students.

Concert arrangements are under the auspices of the Granite High North Band Parents Association. Harold Stoker is president of the association.

Accepting applications for emergency loans to farmers

Cong. Melvin Price (Dem., 23rd Illinois) has announced that the Department of Agriculture is accepting applications for emergency loans to compensate farmers for losses incurred during last summer's drought.

Loan applications for assistance in replacing physical losses to personal property will be accepted through Dec. 30, while applications for loan assistance needed because of crop production losses will be accepted through July 29, 1977.

Price said that the loans repayable at 5 percent interest over an average period of seven years, are being made available through the U.S. Farmers Home Administration, after drought conditions were declared in St. Clair County from June 1 through July 31 of this year, and in Madison County from May 1 through Aug. 25.

Cong. Price added that individual farmers desiring information on how to apply for emergency loans or other types of assistance should contact Sheldon Keyser, local county supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration, at P.O. Box 246, Nashville, Ill. 62823. The telephone number is (618) 227-8862.

Three types will be available. A. Persons 18 years to 59 years with no chronic health

Girl hurt, in intensive care

Mrs. Terri Presswood, 17, of 3209 Maryville Road, was injured when she was walking east across the intersection of Niedringhaus and Madison avenues and was struck by the auto of Daniel Gray, 1920 Third St., Madison, at 1:25 p.m. Tuesday. Gray said his car skidded on the wet pavement and he was unable to avoid striking the pedestrian.

Mrs. Presswood was admitted to the intensive care unit at St. Elizabeth Hospital, with a bruise to the forehead, abrasions to the hands, arms, elbows, right leg and fracture of pelvic area.

Car hits train, two are injured

Two young St. Louis men were injured when their auto, northbound on Madison Avenue at the 16th Street railroad crossing, collided with a Granite City Steel locomotive at 5:25 a.m. today.

The driver of the car, James Lee Simon Jr., 19, and a passenger, Dennis Caissey, 20, were injured, suffering multiple cuts and bruises and other injuries. There was extensive damage to the car.

Both declined to be taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital early today and Simon was taken to the Granite City Jail, charged with failure to have a valid driver's license with him.

Pack 122 plans paper drive

Cub Pack 122 held its monthly meeting during the weekend at Wilson School and discussed plans to sponsor a paper drive as the next fund raising project.

New members included Mr. and Mrs. Clint Barnhart, Edwin Williams, Vada L. Olson and Patricia Pitchford.

two-traffic was established.

Karandjeff said that National Foods, Inc., has indicated it wants to spend about $750,000 on a new building addition and approximately $700,000 for new interior furnishings and remodeling of the present store building.

The two-way traffic on Iowa Street behind the store was necessary, Karandjeff told the council by letter, because it had been told by the store operators that many customers come from the Madison-Venice area and have difficulty in entering the parking lot from Namekiki Road inasmuch as a left turn at Iowa is prohibited.

He suggested that two-way traffic on Iowa would permit a left turn from Namekiki as well as provide access from St. Clair Avenue.

The ordinance for two-way traffic was placed on first reading in the Nov. 16 meeting after a motion to suspend the rules for final passage failed to receive enough votes.

Round-robin games will test Warriors

GCHS South opens its 1976-77 basketball season Friday in a two-day round-robin tournament at Bridgeport, Ill., competing against Marshall High, Edwards County High and host Red Hill High.

The Warriors play Marshall at 7 p.m. Friday and then take on Edwards County at 2:30 p.m. Saturday and Red Hill at 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

Coach Don Deterting notes that each team will play three games; the school emerging with the best win-loss record will be declared the tourney winner.

"This weekend's games should give me and my assistant coaches an insight into our season capabilities, individually and as a team," says Deterting, who has returned as head coach following an absence of three seasons from that position.

Deterting served as South's cage mentor from 1967 to 1973 before accepting a position as athletic coordinator in the fall of 1973 at the newly-opened GCHS North.

During that time span, his squads posted a record of 93 wins and 64 losses, including a trip to the "sweet 16" super-sectional and a Southwestern Conference title. South is no longer a conference member.

Fifty-five athletes reported for practice this season, including four varsity lettermen from last year's squad. The lettermen are:

John Slay, 6-4, 170-pound senior, Dave Rhodes, 6-4, 200-pound senior, Tim Anderson, 6-6, 180-pound senior and Terry Angle, 6-3, 185-pound junior.

Deterting said three other players who lettered last season did not join the team.

For the Bridgeport tournament, Angle is slated to fill

Cougar women in practices for '77 basketball season

"Oh, how many more laps?" they pant.

"No, you must have counted wrong," they moan.

These moans and groans come from the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville women basketball Cougars as they practice for their season, which opens Saturday, Jan. 15, at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston.

The women will be under the direction of new head coach Lorraine Stark, assisted by Donna Grebel. Last year, under the guidance of Ian Anderson, the Cougar cagers posted their "winningest" season, 19-4, and took fifth place in the state basketball tournament.

Others are high, as all but one of last year's starters return to play. Missing from the lineup will be senior guard Jan Green of East Alton.

Ten experienced women return to this year's squad, along with four freshmen and three other rookies.

Of the experienced players, senior JoAnn Wiemstroer, 6-1, is SIUE's tallest scoring threat. A transfer student from Meramec Community College, she begins her second year as a Cougar cager.

Genia Cross of Villa Ridge, a transfer student from Shawnee Community College, also is playing her second and senior year with the Cougars.

Jerryl Weibel of Edwardsville, a member of last year's team, will act as a player as well as assistant trainer for the Cougars this year.

Senior Cherry Sharp of Granite City returns for her fourth and final season as an SIUE cager.

Both Sharon Frey and Jane O'Laughlin of Edwardsville, starters on last year's team, will be participating this season. Laura "JoJo" Brooks, also a returning member of last year's winning squad, will play.

Debbie Meehan of Bunker Hill and Jayne Bertoglio of Gillespie also are experienced cagers who will return for a second season with the Cougars.

"Hero," as she's called by her teammates, is a quiet scoring threat who is a "hero" nearly every game.

Carol Dappert, Mollie Fedor and Brenda Schrage, all of Edwardsville, are freshmen playing with the Cougars. So is Terri Mason of Alton, who has traded in her tennis racket to bounce the basketball for SIUE.

Other rookies include Daisy Rice and Carolyn Davis of East St. Louis and Kim Christian, another tall player.

When the moans and groans in practice become too intense, the coach gives the girls a break. "Tell us a joke; take your time," they request.

She pulls out her elephant joke book and gives them 30 seconds to catch their breath, while she finds an "entertaining" elephant joke.

"Why do elephants have sore ankles?" "Because they wear their tennis shoes too tight."

Despite the elephant jokes, there is a serious note to the Cougar practice sessions. The women on the basketball team want another winning season, and they'll strive hard to get it. They face a grueling 18-game schedule.

"I want 150 per cent effort," Coach Stark says simply. In spite of the groans and protests, the players are giving that kind of effort.

Powerful Warrior wrestlers to open with four-school meet

Coach William "Bill" Schmitt has scheduled 25 opposing schools, and the annual GCHS South wrestling tournament, for 1976-77, his 27th season as the Warriors' head wrestling coach.

GCHS South rolled to a 20-2 regular season record last year, placed sixth in its own holiday tourney and captured its 19th straight district crown before placing sixth in sectional competition.

Two of last season's opponents were not rescheduled: Decatur Eisenhower and Peoria Woodruff. But five schools have been added to the list—the Illinois schools of Normal University High and Quincy, and the Missouri schools of Parkway North, Lindbergh and Columbia Hickman.

South will open its season Saturday by hosting a quadrangular with Collinsville, Danville and Normal.

South mat team has balance

"We have a well-balanced team," believes South High Coach William Schmitt, "and many good prospective matmen."

Among the 58 athletes listed on the Warrior roster, 11 lettered in the sport last season, when the Warriors posted a 20-2 dual-meet record. Returning as lettermen are six seniors, three juniors and two sophomores.

The 11 are: Seniors Mark Naglich, Kevin Wilson, James Carmody, Mark Hartman, David Gaines and Randy Basore; Juniors Darrell Hasty, Brian Basore and Wally DeShon; and sophomores Barry Forshee and Sam Perkins.

Hasty posted a 23-5-2 record last season as a 138-pounder, including the district championship. He will compete at 145 pounds this season.

Heavyweight Naglich went 19-6 and was a district runner-up. Forshee posted a 22-11 mark, and was second at district and third in the sectional at 105; he will compete at 112 Saturday.

Wilson is staying at 185 after a 23-7 record and third place in the district. Carmody has moved up 10 pounds from 145; he had an 8-1 mark.

Hartman also has retained his heavyweight status; he was 5-1

May end atomic energy committee

By LESTER BELL

Press-Record
Washington Bureau
The fate of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy is uncertain. The time is drawing near for Congress to consider its dismantlement.

Three Illinoisans are involved in its destiny. Rep. Melvin Price of this district, a Democrat and dean of the Illinois Congressional delegation, was its vice-chairman in the last congress and is a past chairman.

Rep. John B. Anderson of Rockford, third-ranking House Republican, is a senior minority member of the committee. Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson, D-Ill., is chairman of the Senate Committee on Committees which has proposed changes that would abolish it.

Of the seven joint committees, the one on atomic power alone wields legislative authority.

More members of Congress in recent years have seemed to believe no joint committee should report legislation to the floor, and there are proposals to strip the committee of the power it has held for 30 years.

The House Democratic Caucus is to meet Dec. 6. The majority caucus is expected to consider transferring the joint committee's jurisdictions to four standing house committees, leaving it with a token oversight function.

Stevenson considers his committee's priority to reduce 31 committees to 14 a priority item for the next congress.

In the Stevenson resignation, the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy would hand over most of its jurisdiction to the Senate Armed Services and Interior committees.

Although a House Republican source close to the joint committee cautioned that it is "still quite early" to talk of abolishing it, he did volunteer the information that a sampling of Democratic caucus opinion recently found 63 per cent in favor of dismantlement.

How are Illinoisans Melvin Price and John Anderson taking all this? There has been no apparent reaction yet, but some colleagues reportedly think Price may not put up much opposition, while Anderson's associates say he has not made up his mind.

Anderson does believe, however, that the joint committee has functioned well and has "a proud record to point to," as one source put it. Anderson is disturbed that the committee is being maligned by critics who say it is too chummy with the nuclear power industry.

The committee got into hot water this year when it blocked Congressional amendments to restrict nuclear exports.

The Republican source asserted a conviction that the joint committee is still needed and that, over the next five years, it will have a crucial role in shaping foreign and domestic policy in nuclear affairs.

Particularly urgent, the source said, will be the issue of nuclear proliferation.

English concert features torte

A breath of "Olde England" will sweep through the SIUE University Center during a Coffee Concerts Chamber Music series performance Monday, Nov. 29, at 8:15 p.m.

All of the coffee concerts are held in the University Club restaurant. Seating will be around tables in a nightclub atmosphere with bottomless coffee cups and candlelight. The dessert for Nov. 29 will be an English torte to be served during intermission.

During the English theme concert, SIUE musicians will perform "Fantasies for Viola" by Purcell; "Four Songs, Op. 35 for Voice and Violin" by Holst; "On Wenlock Edge, for Tenor, Piano and Strings" by Vaughan-Williams; and "String Quartet No. 2, Op. 36" by Britten.

Table reservations will be made according to the number of persons in each party. Seating will be limited to 180 persons.

Tickets for single concerts are $1.50 for non-students and 50 cents for SIUE students.

Remaining concerts will be a French program April 11 and an American program May 16.

Crime Blocker program to be explained

Officer Friendly Glenn Wright of the Granite City Police Department will explain the Crime Blocker program to the YMCA Senior Citizens' Club at its meeting at 11:30 a.m. Friday.

The YMCA senior citizens meet each Friday at 10 a.m. in the "Y" auditorium. The YMCA is a United Way agency.

Jail called key to curbing fraud

(Press-Record Washington Bureau) U.S. Attorney Samuel K. Skinner, who heads the Medicaid investigation in the Northern District of Illinois, has asked Congress for stiff jail terms to deter the "greatest ripoff in history."

Skinner testified last week with New York Deputy Attorney General Charles J. Hynes before the Senate Subcommittee on Long-Term Care of the Aging.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, chairman of the Senate Special Committee on Aging, invited them to propose reforms to save the integrity of the federal Medicaid and Medicare program.

"I believe this is absolutely necessary" before we move forward to the consideration of national health insurance," Skinner said.

Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois, a senior Republican on the committee, joined Church in questioning the expert witnesses.

Skinner and Hynes agreed that local-level prosecutors should be supported by a federal task force specifically established to investigate fraud in the national health program.

Skinner said the task force should include postal inspectors, Internal Revenue Service special agents, Federal Bureau of Investigation agents, investigators from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, accountants and professional counsel from the medical fields.

In response to Percy's questions, Skinner said the greatest deterrent to "white-collar crime" is the certainty of a jail term.

According to their lawyers, Skinner testified, Medicaid wrongdoers most fear going to prison.

"There's no reason we shouldn't have a minimum mandatory sentence," Skinner said, adding that "prosecution can have a deterrent effect," particularly in cases involving "kickback" charges.

He said that as a result of the Illinois investigations, "what appeared to be only a 'major problem 16 months ago is now more accurately seen as a motherlode of fraud and corruption within Medicaid and Medicare programs."

He said the 1970s have witnessed "the greatest ripoff in history" and he implied that this "national disgrace" can be blamed not only on "corrupt profiteers" but on Congress as well.

Skinner pointed out that in (in Congress) "health care programs are typically conceived, initiated and continued without regard to adequate internal and external controls."

He also faulted the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for "failure to recognize the seriousness of the Medicaid abuse problem."

HEW, he said, belatedly is now reacting.

Percy asked if medical and dental associations have professional obligations to police their ranks to weed out those who abuse such programs.

Skinner denounced on the ground that Congress, acting on the will of the electorate, created the programs and has the responsibility of control.

He said it would be "unfair" to hold the private associations to account for their members.

Skinner said Medicaid profiteering not only steals tax dollars and ill serves those in need, but also is nationally demoralizing. "That is the tragedy," he concluded.

STUDENT SENATE MEMBER Don G. Dotzauer, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl and Marie Dotzauer, 3322 Wabash Ave., was elected last week to the Student Senate at Eastern Illinois University, Charleston. Dotzauer is a sophomore majoring in oral communication and business.

Veterans' exchange of skills

Wasted skills and trades may be put to use again through a new program offered by the Office of Veterans' Affairs (OVA) at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Terry Campbell, coordinator of veterans' affairs, said a Veterans' Skill and Trade Exchange (VSTE) program has been established to provide a different approach for veterans in need of employment.

Campbell said, "Since permanent employment is hard to come by these days, this program will enable veterans to earn extra money by utilizing their skills. Also, skills could be exchanged for other skills."

The program will be aimed at aiding the less fortunate, such as the elderly, in surrounding communities.

The OVA office, Room 1207 of the Rendleman Building at SIUE will categorize the names of applicants and match them with persons in need of a service. Non-veteran students are also to be encouraged to use the service.

Persons interested may contact the OVA office in person or by phone at 692-2707. Persons wishing to participate are to submit name, address and phone number, the skill, craft or trade needed or offered, and the type of payment preferred. The office is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.

RECOVER STOLEN CAR

The car of Margaret West, 2707 Harvey Place, Apt. 76, was stolen from the rear parking lot of her apartment building Monday and was found in the 2500 block of Westmoreland Drive at 10 p.m. Monday.

Frontier labor found contrasting conditions

(Third of a Bicentennial year Press-Record series)
The Quad-Cities always have been in the forefront of the American labor movement, and this community currently is in the throes of competition for the presidency of the United Steelworkers.

In frontier Illinois, the problems of labor were posed by nature to everyone alike.

The "boss" was each man's will to survive, and the worker's real tasks were to provide himself with the elements of food, clothing and shelter.

There was no division of labor and little distinction between "management" and "labor." For the first generation following settlement in Illinois in 1818, nearly every man farmed, hunted and spent whatever time remained in idleness.

He felt little need for the things he could not produce himself. In the sparsely populated north, fur-trading remained the important economic activity. Game abounded and the pelts of deer, bear, raccoon, muskrat, otter, beaver, cat, fox and mink were sent from the Illinois River region to the little settlement of Chicago.

Voyageurs or engagés, half-breeds whose French and Indian ancestors roamed the wilderness for more than a century before brought the pelts to collection points.

Forcing loaded canoes or Mackinac boats over the water and portaging around falls or rapids was physically debilitating, and life expectancy was short. Sangamon State University researchers note, "In the more populated south, the lack of transportation facilities and of a laboring class were marked. Because overland travel was slow and hazardous, settlers built cabins along the rivers where they could benefit from the steamboat traffic just beginning in 1818.

The most logical solution to the labor shortage was the importation of workers from the East.

This was a slow process; few were attracted by frontier conditions. And as soon as men arrived, they tended to seek independence by taking up cheap land. Skilled workers were scarce indeed.

A typical plea in the Illinois wagon maker, hatter, saddler, tanner and courier. "From four to six carpenters and joiners, and from four to six ax-men, and from six to eight farming laborers will find immediate employment and good wages."

Salt works in Gallatin County and elsewhere were operated primarily by slaves from the surrounding areas, their labor in the salines authorized by the territorial legislature in 1814.

Slavery was, above all, a system of labor. Its advocates pressed for its establishment in Illinois as one way to solve the labor shortage.

The Illinois Constitution of 1818 prohibited slavery and involuntary servitude, but permitted an indenture system. Until the 1830s, Illinois received its population from neighboring states. But in that decade increasing numbers of Germans, Irish and Scandinavians began to arrive. Mines found work in the lead mines of Galena in the 20s and 30s, still a boisterous camp in the wilderness.

Many laborers were required for the Illinois and Michigan Canal, begun in 1836 to connect the Illinois River with Lake Michigan.

The Irish particularly settled in large groups along the canal, populating Joliet, Peru, LaSalle and the adjoining counties. Illinois continued to grow, and by 1850 the state had a population of 851,470, with Chicago as its boom city of 29,863.

The foundation for future growth had been laid by the muscle and sweat of its first generation of workers toiling on railroad farms, on the canal, in the salt works, in the lead mines of Galena, and in the embryo industries of a frontier economy. Manufacturing was still in the shop or handicraft stage, closely related to the pioneer home.

The 200 manufacturing concerns in Chicago were small, employing 1,400 men, 250 of them in the meat-packing industry.

They were apprentices, journeymen and masters of an earlier age. Employer and employee labored side by side, preventing all but periodic labor consciousness.

Yet, dissatisfaction over long hours, unsanitary conditions, stringent liquor regulations and heartless foremen had already manifested themselves on several occasions.

The growth of cities and manufacturing awaited the railroads, and organized labor as we know it today awaited those developments.

'Carnival' is coming

As the dim lights come up on an uncurtained stage—empty except for a few trees and the hint of an open meadow—a small figure will enter carrying a lopsided suitcase and wearing an ill-fitting dress and black stockings.

This is Lilli, the lonely orphan enchanted with the desire to join the "Carnival," with all its glitter and glamour. Showing at SUE, performances of the musical will be presented Dec. 24 and 31 at 8:15 p.m. and Dec. 5 and 12 at 1:30 p.m.

Special dinner theater nights are planned Dec. 2, 3, 9 and 10. Although the troupe that Lilli has come to join is "a bit raffish and run down," she is dazzled by the spirited and colorful excitement of the jugglers, animal acts, aerialists, clowns and dancers.

She is unsuccessful in several jobs with the troupe, which was active a generation ago in small cities of France. She becomes entangled in a triangle where there is rivalry for her affection. Her admirers are Marco "The Magnificent," the troupe's magician, and Paul, her puppeteer, a puppeteer with a lame leg.

Lilli is captivated by the miraculous Marco. Paul becomes jealous of Marco, who seems to be winning Lilli with his suave and debonair manner. Marco is constantly fascinating her with his magical act.

Paul talks through his puppet. There is a sentimental walrus who is fearful of "anti-walrus" remarks and a sophisticated fox who observes, "You've never fox-trotted until you've done it with a fox." The flavor of the musical, directed by Aline Wiltz III, is brought to the audience with circus parades and performers marching down the aisles. The musical theme, "Love Makes the World Go Round," is constant throughout the story. "Carnival" seeks to capture the mood of carnival people in a simple and lighthearted manner.

Heading the cast are Ann Heintzker as Lilli and Kevin Hiedt as the puppeteer. They are supported by Jon Mitchell Hordley as Marco, Jan Ruder as Rosalie, Robbie Scroggins as Jacquet and Henry Reynolds as R. F. Schlegel.

Also in the cast are Lynn Kluth, Michelle Wiltz, Kathy Jaitiles, Gwen Harris and Sue Zorja.

Changes in the production include Laura Compton, Jenny Cotfield, Linda Grad, Peggy Hiedt, Wendy Stevenson, Michael Means, Brian Norber and Kelly Fries. Twenty members make up the rest of the company.

Ticket information is available at 692-2320. For dinner theater reservations, Quad-Cities may phone the University Club restaurant between 4 and 7 p.m. Monday through Friday.

ATTEND CONVENTION. Members of the Madison County Tavern Owners Association (Area 49) attend a dinner session of the 27th annual National Licensed Beverage Association Convention in Miami Beach, Fla., last week. From left, Tony Anselmo, public relations chairman of Madison; Faye Schneider, vice-president of Granite City; Julie Goclan, vice-president of Madison; Charlie Hester, president of the county association; Minnie Brown, secretary, and Ardith Decker, membership chairman.

Industrial waste being exchanged

Companies using the St. Louis Industrial Waste Exchange during its first year of operation made or are about to make 13 deals involving the sale of waste materials, Roland C. Marquardt, exchange director, reports. The first in this county, it has operated since October 1975.

"We are pleased that we have been able to help find users for 13 materials that might otherwise have had to be disposed of as useless," Marquardt said. "Because 20 of the 32 companies who have listed items with us have not responded to our survey, it is possible that more than 13 deals have been concluded."

During its first 12 months, the waste exchange published quarterly listings describing a total of 115 materials either available or wanted by industry. The 13 which led to transactions represent 11.3 per cent of the total number listed. It was estimated when the exchange was started that a success rate of 10 to 20 per cent would be satisfactory.

The 15 separate listings attracted 263 inquiries about 38 items, Marquardt said. The other 27 items had no takers.

The listing which attracted more inquiries—12—than any other was for waste solvents available on the East Coast. However, no transaction on that item was reported.

Materials for which deals are concluded or pending are an ammonium sulfate, baghouse dust, drawing compounds, waste oils, spent sulfuric acid, aqueous lead paste, coated abrasives, potassium chloride, lime slurry, ethylene dichloride and treatment of plant sludge. Companies from all over the country listed materials on the exchange. Only 34 per cent of the listings came from the immediate Southern Illinois-Eastern Missouri region.

Inquiries as to how the exchange worked came from throughout the U.S. and from abroad.

The waste exchange grew out of a seminar in April 1975 on industrial and hazardous wastes.

Listings are made by code numbers to prevent the listers' competitors from discovering anything about production techniques by studying the type and amount of wastes.

There is a fee of $5 for each listing, which is continued for three consecutive quarters unless the lister cancels it. Companies with materials listed on the exchange are sent any inquiries received on their items. It is then up to the lister to pursue negotiations. The system is modeled on so-called "waste bourses" established in Europe in the past four years.

Harvard staff member to talk

A Harvard educator will conduct informal problem-solving sessions for area educators and parents in two meetings Tuesday, Nov. 30.

Dr. Marion Walker, a staff member of Harvard University Medical School, will lead a session for educators at the River Bluffs Teachers' Center, beginning at 4:30 p.m. in the Glen Carbon School on Birger Avenue.

A second session, for parents, co-sponsored by the Edwardsville School District and the Montessori Child Development Center, is scheduled at 8 p.m. in the Eden Church Educational Building, 903 Second St., Edwardsville. Topic of both sessions will be "Visual Thinking."

Dr. Walter is the author of several children's books, including "Make a Bigger Puddle, Make a Smaller Worm." All interested educators are invited to attend.

The "attendance fee" for educators is one piece of string and four half-pint empty milk cartons. Participants are also to take a pair of scissors to the session.

The Teachers' Center Project, based at SIUE, is funded by a grant from the National Science Foundation.

Answer: The first Thanksgiving took place in 1621 in Plymouth, Mass., and lasted for three days. On the menu were venison, duck, goose, seafood, yams, white bread, corn bread, leeks, watercress, a variety of greens, grape wine, and wild plums and dried berries for dessert. Although turkeys were plentiful, there is no record that they were eaten at the first Thanksgiving celebration.
